Annoying Kidney Ills

Make Life Miserable for Many Norway People

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have given peace and comfort to many Norway people. Profit by this Norway resident's experience.

John F. Sampson, prop. painting estab., 174 Main St., says: "I was feeling run down and miserable. I was tired and nervous and my kidneys didn't act regularly. At times the secretions passed to frequently, then again they were scanty. My head ached night and day. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills so I sent to Stone's Drug Store for them. When I had finished taking Doan's, the trouble left and I have not been bothered since. I can certainly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone afflicted likewise."

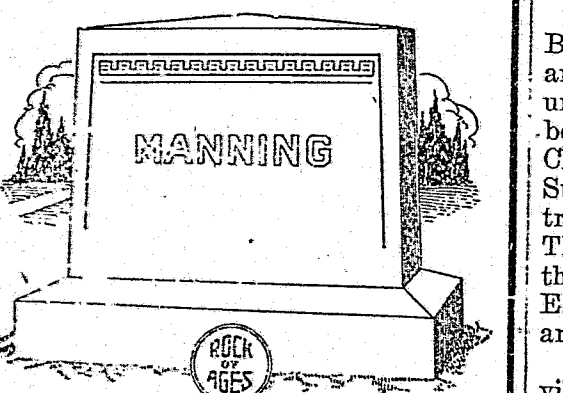

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Sampson had. Fryeburg-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Mrs. Mary Curtis

Mrs. Mary Curtis, widow of James P. Curtis, passed away at her home on Main St., Thursday, December 7, of heart disease. Mrs. Curtis has been in frail health for some time but has been really failing only for the last few weeks.

She was the daughter of Alvah and Charlotte Andrews Estes and was 78 years of age. She survived by a daughter, Ella May Curtis who has always stayed at home with her parents; a sister, Mrs. Phoebe Doe of Waltham, Mass., and several nephews and nieces. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis lived for a time on a farm in Woodstock but have resided in West Paris for more than 35 years.

Mrs. Curtis was of a quiet nature, a good neighbor and devoted to her home. In religious preference she was a Methodist and highly respected by all who knew her.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. F. Aldrich attending the service. The Onward Rebekeah Lodge of which she was a member attended in a body. There were beautiful flowers.

Of those who attended the funeral from out of town were: Mrs. E. M. Heath of Auburn, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Bowker of Portland, Alvah Estes and Alvin Swift of South Paris.

Mrs. Minnie Day was taken ill Sunday night, Dec. 10 and grew worse until pneumonia developed. Her aunt, Mrs. Mabel Bacon has been with the family from the first. Mrs. Anna Perkins was called on Wednesday and with the directions of two physicians have quelled the disease and she is now on the road to recovery. She has had many sympathizing friends because she was left a widow with two children to support less than a year ago and many expressions of relief were heard when she began to mend.

Mrs. F. W. Waterhouse has returned from the C. M. G. hospital and is improving in health.

M. S. Bubier has had another ill turn.

A Union Service was held Sunday evening, Dec. 10 in the Universalist church when the five boys who attended the Boys conference in Auburn gave their reports. They all did fine. They were Howard Wardwell, Albert Martin, Mar- ton Berry, Marshall, Briggs and Stanley Perham. Their leader Abner Mann conducted the meeting and all gave splendid reports which showed that they had been attentive in taking notes. A young peoples chorus led in the singing. Rev. Eleanor H. Forbes read the scripture lesson and Rev. H. F. Aldrich offered prayer.

Schools close this week for a two weeks vacation and the teachers will go to their respective homes for the holidays.

Christmas services will be held in the Baptist church Sunday evening, Dec. 24 and will be a Christmas concert by the united schools. The arrangements have been made by the day school teachers, Clara Berry, chairman. Each of the Sunday Schools will hold their separate tree entertainments Monday evening. The Universalists in Goodwill Hall and the Federated Sunday School in the M. E. Church. The Finnish church people are to have their concert Sunday evening.

Della M. Cole of Gorham, N. H. is visiting this week with Mrs. E. T. White.

Mrs. H. F. Aldrich and her daughter have been sick the past week but are now gaining; also Mrs. Marjorie Hill.

Rev. D. B. Holt, District Supt. of the M. E. Conference was here Wednesday and spoke in the evening at the M. E. church.

Mrs. E. J. Dennen recently visited Mrs. J. L. Bowker and her mother, Mrs. Esther Tuell in Portland.

C. H. Martin has purchased the L. H. Penley store and will take possession the first of April.

C. H. Lane, Jr., is some better.

Mrs. Josephine Bates recently enjoyed a delightful trip to Waterville where she attended the 50th wedding anniversary of her brother O. A. Thayer and wife. It being the first time she ever visited that place or Lewiston.

The barber, F. H. Hill has had to be absent from his shop some this week on account of a bad cold.

HARBOR

Archie Hurd is at home from Houlton for the holidays. Glen, Ethel and Marion Bemis are at home from Westbrook Seminary for the holidays.

The Sunday school children have an entertainment and Christmas tree at the church, Saturday night, Dec. 23.

Elizabeth Hall and Margaret Gould are at home from St. Johnsbury, for the Christmas vacation.

Arthur Hall is moving his mill here. Martha Irish was a guest of Mrs. Carroll McAllister over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hurd of Lovell were guests at Herbert Hurd's, Sunday. The snow roller made its first trip Dec. 18.

ALBANY

Valley Road

Mrs. Ethel Conner is at home from the Lewiston Hospital and is gaining fast.

Mrs. Mabel Bartlett and Vera and Merdie Conner were in Bethel Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Saunders visited Mrs. Ethel Conner one day last week.

Bert Cressy is hauling pulp wood off the Copeland place.

Arthur Cressy has finished conveying the scholars and is helping his father with his work.

Elmer Cross visited his sister Mrs. Lena Shaw of Bethel a few days last week.

Charles Conner is hauling dry cord wood to Bethel.

Mrs. E. E. Bennett was in Bethel on business Saturday.

Mrs. C. O. Martin of Otisfield has constructed a Radio Set and has enjoyed many concerts. Those from Schenectady she has received especially clear. Many of the parts of her set she made herself.

If you have any questions regarding Radio send them to Dick Chase, 183X, West Baldwin, Me. Read the Radio news each week in the Advertiser—it is interesting and instructive.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is no doubt that catarrhal deafness is a constitutional condition. CATARRHAL DEAFNESS is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is completely closed. Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be destroyed, the hearing must be lost forever. HALL'S CATARRHAL MEDICINE acts directly on the blood in the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing inflammation and restoring normal conditions. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. HOME TOWN HELPS

THINK BEFORE BUYING LAND

Here Are Some Valuable Suggestions for Those Who Contemplate Establishing a Home.

Before you build it is necessary to have a parcel of ground. Too much care cannot be taken in the selection of a site. Remember, it is the spot on which you and your family will spend many years, at least that is the general supposition, for the building of a home is usually one of the highly important happenings of one's life.

Location determines the character of a house and it has much to do with the family's happiness and health. If the person contemplating building a home will observe the following suggestions when buying or selecting a site he will save himself a lot of future trouble and at the same time make an investment that will increase rather than decrease in value. Here are the suggestions:

Buy only in a section that is high, dry and healthful.

Locate in a neighborhood that is likely to increase in value and always be desirable for homes.

Ask about the water supply; where the water comes from, if the local system is modern and whether the supply is plentiful.

Churches, schools and stores should be convenient.

Find out if the section has all modern subsurface improvements; sewers, for instance.

What is the tax levy? Compare it with previous rates for years.

Why the increase or decrease, if any?

Are gas and electricity easily obtainable?

Does the site need much grading, seeding or planting?

What are the transit or transportation facilities?

What is the traveling time to place of business?

What is the expense?

If the property meets these conditions satisfactorily, then you may be sure of your selection.

CHURCH KIND TO BIRDS

In the quiet side yard of the First Congregational church, Admiral boulevard and Highland avenue, Kansas City, the church has placed a well-designed fountain for birds.

The fountain is a rendezvous for all sparrows in the neighborhood and their more aristocratic kinsmen. A sparrow, reveling in a bath, ducked out of sight below the rim of the fountain—the modest thing—while the picture was being snapped.

Autumn Time for Seeding Lawns.

Springtime is commonly considered to be seedtime, but with lawns better results often are obtained by seeding at some other season. Except, perhaps, in the northern tier of states and in New England, says the United States Department of Agriculture, early autumn seeding is much more satisfactory than spring seeding. South of the latitude of New York spring seeding should rarely if ever be practiced. There are good reasons for this rule. Young grass does not stool well in spring and summer and is not sufficiently aggressive to combat crabgrass and other summer annual weeds. In the area south of this and north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers the time is early in September. The re-seeding of an old lawn should be done at the same season as new seeding.

Fire Prevention.

The general program of instruction concerning fire prevention is arranged largely for the benefit of school children. If these young persons can be sufficiently impressed, much good will be accomplished. Yet there is much for the grown-ups to learn regarding the proper storage of coal, the removal of rubbish and other things which, experience teaches, cause fires. This campaign of instruction is highly important and should be given heed by all having the welfare of their community at heart.

He Wanted Glutton Bread.

"I want a loaf of glutton bread," said a small boy in a city grocery that keeps goods out of the ordinary.

"What?" asked the astonished clerk.

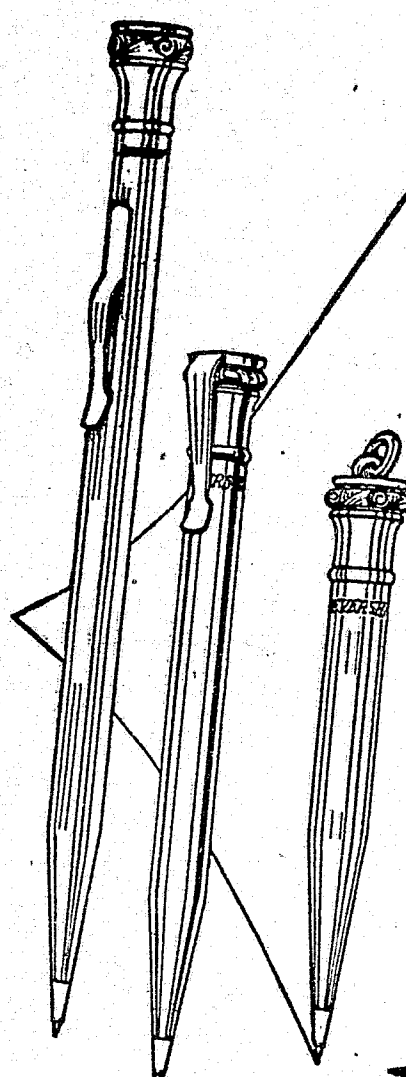

"Glutton bread—the kind to take fat off," insisted the boy. "Some one told me that's the kind she ought to eat." Then he searched in his pockets and fished up a crumpled scrap of paper, which he handed to the clerk. The memorandum read:

"One loaf of glutton bread."

In life the highway that has no difficulties is not worth traveling.

PREVENT FIRES AT CHRISTMAS

While this is a season of the year when all is hospitality, there will always be one thing that is never welcome, and that is fire. Yet, fire often chooses Christmas-time for its visit because then, in many American homes, conditions are favorable to its reception.

According to a reliable estimate by The National Board of Fire Underwriters, an average of one in every ten Christmas fires, last year, resulted in fatality. This is scarcely a pleasant thought to associate with the Yuletide, and it is because there is no wish to see the spirit of the observance dampened by tragedy that a little sane advice will not be out of place. Some regard for fire-safety, in preparing for the celebration will make the day all the happier, by removing any cause for anxiety.

Christmas tree unstably set up, sometimes near heating and lighting fixtures, and hung with candles, constitute the chief sources of danger. If trees are firmly erected away from anything that may ignite them or their flimsy trimmings, and lighted by colored electric lamps instead of dangerous candles—if they must be illuminated—two of the principal causes of Christmas fires will be removed.

Candles always are dangerous and especially so when they are placed in windows where curtains, other draperies and temporary decorations are in proximity. If fire would be avoided, no better start could be made than by eliminating all lighted candles in the home. Their presence is by no means essential to the enjoyment of the day.

Sometimes, too, Santa Claus himself is responsible for fire particularly when he wears long whiskers which may be easily ignited. If Santa is to be present at the celebration his costume should be rendered as nearly fire-resistant as possible by spraying upon it a solution of water-glass obtainable at any drug store.

Nowadays it is easy to purchase metal tinsel, flake asbestos and powdered mica for arranging snow effects on and under trees, in place of inflammable paper clippings and cotton. Smokers should be unusually careful in the vicinity of trees, and the evergreens themselves should be removed immediately after Christmas. It is worth noting that in England there is a belief that trees left in the house after New Year's Day bring bad luck to the family. As a superstition, it is better founded than most, since the majority of Christmas fires have been due to dried-out trees.

Santa should be persuaded not to bring toys requiring alcohol, gasoline or kerosene for their operation, or unsuitable motion picture machine using inflammable films. He should avoid low priced electrical playthings, too, since they often are defectively wired and frequently have insecure, dangerous connections. Such toys have caused many serious burns and fires.

If, in spite of all precautions, someone's clothing does catch fire, he should be promptly rolled in a rug or woolen cloth in order to smother the flames which must be kept away from the face.

After all, Christmas dinners can be attacked with sharper relish when things have been so arranged that there will be no need to call the fire department. Besides, in all fairness, it is well to remember that the firemen have turkey dinners of their own to eat. Why not let them enjoy the day, too?

BUCKFIELD

North End

Lerone and Richard Damon are sawing their pulp and taking their dinners with C. L. Hammond.

Doris and Bertha Robberts have gone to Dixfield to work in the clothes-pin mill. Foster has his mill all moved here where he will work this winter cutting and sawing the following lots: M. L. Rowe's pine; the Barrow lot, pine; Everett Reed's lot, hemlock; and C. L. Hammond's lot, pine.

Jud Decosta of Hebron was a visitor at Eugene Fuller's Friday night and Saturday.

Irvin Cutting is cutting wood for George Atwood.

Irvin Cutting sawed wood for C. C. Hammond Friday with his power machine; Elmer Robbert, Herb Smith and Grever Keane helped.

C. L. Hammond and Herb Smith have had their pigs killed, they were 6½ months old. Smith's dressed 340 lbs. and Hammond's, 350 lbs.

Carl Stevens swapped horses with Gene Hazelton recently.

Sunday callers at C. L. Hammond's were Mr. and Mrs. Will Parling, Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond, Floyd Stevens, Eugene Hazelton and E. E. Hammond. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Rowe were at their daughter's, Mrs. Arthur Allen's, North Paris, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Tucker gave a reception to their friends Saturday evening at his father's, Will Tucker's. Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served. They received many appropriate gifts and the best wishes of many friends.

Max Farrar is stopping at home at present.

Mrs. Grover Keen is sick. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Berry have gone to Rumbold to spend the winter with their son Everett.

Ralph Bessey has gone to Connecticut to work for the New Departure Brake Co.

PORTER CENTER

A number of people from this place attended the meeting held at the Black Schoolhouse.

Dorothy Burnell has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Fred Day. Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Weeks have moved to Kezar Falls for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett and Mrs. Albert Garside and Mrs. Dell Weeks visited Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Weeks, Sunday.

Nat Burnell has been visiting his brother for the past week at Baldwin. Mrs. Maria Shaw and son were guests of Mrs. Nat Burnell, Sunday.

Three bears were seen on Devil Den Mountains by Gerald Durgin and Dorothy Burnell recently.

Thomas Libby is stopping with his niece, Mrs. Nat Burnell this winter.

BIG CATCH OF FUR

H. E. Day is collector of taxes for Greenwood and lives at Lockes Mills. He is something of a trapper as well as collector of public money.

During the trapping season thus far this year he has caught 34 foxes, 9 coons, 22 skunk, 44 rats and 10 minks and the pelts brought him right around $600.

A restaurant man who has a seat in front of his place of business will permit only fat men to use it. He declares thin men are not a good advertisement.

Radio Column

EDITED BY DICK CHASE

Experiments With a Receiving Set
There are a few simple experiments which may be tried with a Regenerative Receiver which will show what a Radio Set will do.

You know that a receiving set will receive when hooked to an aerial but do you know that a bed spring will take the place of an aerial or possibly a stove would be more handy. This is of course not advised as the results are very inferior to those obtained with an aerial.

Did you know that a Regenerative Receiver was a fairly good transmitter. If you live within one-half mile of someone else owning a set you have at times been thrown out of tune by something sounding like a carrier wave. This is another Receiver acting as a transmitter, this happens only when the tube is oscillating and that happens only when you hear a humming noise in your receiver. This condition interferes with reception at nearby stations and should be avoided. If you put a telephone transmitter in series with your ground lead you have a miniature Radiophone transmitter which can probably be heard 150 yards.

Another thing is that you may receive when the aerial is not attached to the set but is grounded. You think you are receiving without the aid of the aerial but in reality the aerial is probably inductively coupled to the set.

Construct a square loop about two feet on each side with about 13 turns of bell wire around it, connect each end of the wire to the set, one on the aerial side and one on the ground. Try to tune in a station. If you are successful turn the loop and notice the effect. This is the principle upon which Compass Stations are constructed.

By reversing the receiver cord connection there is one way which gives better results. Usually this can be found only by an experiment but I know of one company at least who furnish instructions about this. An improvement like that will not make a great deal of difference but make half a dozen similar improvements and they will be quite noticeable.

Send questions for answers to Dick Chase, 11X, West Baldwin, Me.

ANDOVER

The schools in town closed Friday for the Christmas vacation of two weeks. Albert Crossman has been visiting his son, Esboun Crossway and family at Bangor.

Following the supper served by the Ladies' Aid Society in the town hall Wednesday evening the students of the Central building presented the following delightful program:

The North Andover Whist was pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Cutting Saturday evening. Mrs. W. N. Akers and Charles Cutting won first prizes and Mrs. Cutting and Stephen Marston second. Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

Edgar Hodsdon is hauling birch from Black Brook to the spool mill.

Ralph Thurston has been ill the past week with neuritis in his arm.

The Hook and Ladder Co. gave a public whist in their hall Thursday evening, Dec. 14. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

Rev. Mr. Robinson preached an interesting sermon Sunday morning at the Congregational church. Christian Endeavor in the evening was led by Hazel Mills.

About 10 inches of snow fell Sunday. Mrs. Elva Mitchell and William Ellis were united in marriage at the home of the bride Thursday evening by Rev. C. W. Robinson.

Supt. of Schools Spinney from Mexico was in town Friday.

There will be Christmas tree with appropriate exercises at the Congregational church Monday evening.

FRYEBURG

The children of the public school gave a very interesting entertainment with a varied program on Thursday evening at K. of P. Hall. It was given under the direction of the teachers and was very successful.

Automobiles and bicycles are still in evidence on the streets of Fryeburg and in spite of the ice and snow, it is reported to be fine automobiling.

Hugh W. Hastings was in Lewiston recently.

EAST HIRAM

The public schools of East Hiram gave an entertainment at the K. of P. Hall Monday night, Dec. 11, which was well attended. This netted them about $20.

EAST MILTON

Mt. Zircon
A. L. Buck and O. H. Buck are sawing birch for H. A. Buck.

Ida Lapham is at home for two weeks vacation.

E. C. Johnson is working for Bert De la woods.

W. H. Buck has finished work for William E. Bean.
Ethel Eastman cleaned the school house Saturday.
Clifford Ethridge is hauling pulp on to the brook.
Ed Carver is hauling boards for E. A. Farnum to Bryants Pond.

THE MODERN GIRL

She doesn't get up in the morning till the sun is high and bright. Not because she is tired from work, but because she doesn't want to get up till the sun is high and bright. She doesn't help with the dishes, or do any such useful things. Her occupation is walking the street, leading a dog on a string. She has her hair curled up round her neck, and a skirt that reaches her knees. But her silk-stockinged legs below look as if they might freeze. But our girls are not all this type, for I happen to know another. She gives up much she'd like to do to stay home and help mother. She can wash, iron, mend and knit and if needed, do carpet beating. Besides many kinds of fancy-work, she can cook a meal worth eating. She doesn't leave for mother to do the things that will soil her hands. But simply does, without saying a word, the things the day work demands. Which one do you think, to others, the more of comfort will bring? The one who makes of a house a home, or the one with a dog on a string? —L. R. H.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

Lo, the Christmas bells are ringing Over hill and vale and plain, Telling us that Christmas morning Here on earth has come again. Have you caught the Christmas spirit? Waited by on every breeze? Christ was born to rule forever, Lord of earth and sky and seas. And the bells on Christmas morning Ringing over land and seas, Coming to us filled with gladness, In our hearts sweet music breathe. Has it thrilled you with its message, Glory to our Lord and King? And the Christmas morning tells us That the Lord will come again. Have you listened to the music Coming far across the plain, That the Christmas bells are telling To us here on earth again? Glory, praise and honor ever To the Father and the Son, And on earth the Father's blessing, Peace, good-will, to everyone. —MRS. VIOLA HERRICK.

WATERFORD

Mrs. Henry Billings was called to Harrison by the sickness and death of her sister, Mrs. Nellie Sawyer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dudley and Guy Dudley went to the funeral of Mrs. Mary Witham Saturday at North Bridge. Maudie Witham has come to Waterford to spend the winter with her uncle E. M. Dudley.

Our recent snow storm makes it look like we might have sleighing for Christmas.

Percy Kimball has moved the shed from the Dr. Bishop place across the road to his own place.

PLUMMER HILL

Lillian Millet is spending a few days with her brother Raymond and family. Mary Millett and son Bertie were weekend guests at So. Paris with Henry Dean and family.

Harold Millett has been hauling wood for Dennis Gardner the past week. A number of the children in the neighborhood have been having bad colds and unable to attend school.

Sunday guests at L. Millett's were Blanche Tyler and two children, Hazel Gardner and Raymond Millett.

LOVELL

Mrs. S. R. Andrews has been sick; she is now better.

W. G. McAllister found a large butterfly flying around in the shop last week. If we don't have some rain soon Lovell will be bone dry all right, wells are going dry in a number of places.

There will be Christmas tree at the church for the children Sunday evening, Dec. 24th.

Delta Chapter O. E. S. will have a supper at Masonic Hall Tuesday evening, Dec. 26 and there will be a dance at Wiley's Hall after the supper with music by Cooks orchestra of Bridgton.

At the regular meeting of Delta Chapter E. and A. M. the following officers were elected:

W. M.—W. C. Brooks.
S. W.—H. W. Merrill.
Sec.—S. F. Heald.
Treas.—G. W. Walker.
J. W.—J. S. Plummer.
S. D.—Fred Kimball.
E. and A. M.—O. O. Hamilton.
Finance Com.—E. J. Noyes, G. H. Moore, G. A. Kimball.

The Steamers and son have a winter automobile to carry the mail between Lovell and Fryeburg. People that have used them say they will go anywhere as far as snow is concerned.

There has been talk of starting a Weary Club in the village but it seems like a lot of work to clean up a room to meet in.

GREENWOOD CENTER

Ross Martin recently dressed off a spring pig weighing 275 lbs.

F. E. Russell of Bethel was in this vicinity recently.

Christmas

With the coming of another Christmas the custom of giving comes to the fore and like the progressive, useful store that this one is, it has provided itself with carefully selected stocks of gifts—gifts for every person and every age.

Gifts for the Housewife

Very likely she would appreciate something that would add to the perfectness of her table appointments, or to her home or those which would make her cooking or housekeeping more convenient. Here are a few Gift suggestions:

The Popular Wearever and Viko Brands of Aluminum

Casseroles, Percolators, Tea Kettles, Fry Pans, Plates, Tea Pots, Crumb Sets.

Pyrex Oven Glassware in Casseroles, Pie Plates, Bread Pans, Tea Pots, Cake Dishes, Platters.

See the new Harding Cut Glass, and the Bowls in Gold and Jade Yellow.

A good stock of Community Silverware.

A set of Florentine Art Candlesticks for your mantelpiece.

Gift Handkerchiefs

Best assortment and lowest prices we have had for years. White and colored, hemstitched, lace trimmed, hand embroidered. Handkerchiefs in fancy boxes for ladies and children, Handkerchiefs for men and boys—all sorts of Handkerchiefs.

Adorable Gift Things

in Lingerie. A piece of lingerie neatly packed in a holly box always carries its message of true friendship. We have the boxes and the undergarments. Here are garments of fine muslin and silk that are as attractive in their numerous modes as in their wide range of prices.

Royal Society Embroidery Goods. The gift which is the result of a friend's handiwork carries with it a double value and attractiveness. New pieces just in include: Towels, huck and linen; Turkish Towels, Unbleached Aprons, Flaxon Aprons, Gandy Aprons, Night Dresses, Pillow Tops, Table Runners, Luncheon Sets, etc.

Wiss Shears and Scissors, sold under a guarantee. New stock, lower prices.

Perfumes, Stationery, Shell Goods, Jewelry, Bead Necklaces, Ribbons and many other staple goods which lack of space forbids our mentioning here.

HARRISON

Mrs. Nellie (Plummer) Sawyer
Mrs. Nellie (Plummer) widow of the late Mark Sawyer passed away at her home on School Street, Tuesday evening, Dec. 12 at 10:30.

Mrs. Sawyer was born in Waterford about twenty years ago, but had lived in Harrison for many years.

She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Anna Plummer of North Dekota, Mrs. L. E. Billings of Waterford, Mrs. Augusta Young of Portland and Mrs. P. F. Bailey of Portland. Mrs. Sawyer was a faithful worker at the church and Sunday School, for a number of years treasurer of the Sunday School. She was a charter member of the Wyanogon Literary Club and Woodland Rebekah Lodge.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the home attended by Rev. L. W. Witham.

There was an abundance of beautiful flowers and the interment was at Waterford in the family lot. The bearers were Herman Kneeland, Ralph Burnham, C. D. Tarbox and O. N. Abbott.

Mrs. Isabel (Spaulding) Garvin
Many friends in this vicinity were saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Isabel, wife of Samuel Garvin of Salmon Falls, N. H.

Mrs. Garvin was the daughter of Mrs. Clara Spaulding and was born and lived for many years in South Harrison at the home of her uncles James and Bradford Lakin. Her death seems especially sad for Mrs. Spaulding, the mother who has been caring for Mr. Lakin and who is now with Mr. Garvin where three little girls are left, twelve, eight and five years of age.

Mrs. Garvin was thirty-six years old. She was graduated from Bridgion Academy and won many friends everywhere by her love and cheerfulness. Burial was at Salmon Falls.

Emma J. Pitts was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pitts on Hillside Avenue.

Wm. Chapman has been ill and confined to his home on Waterford Road.

several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Buttersfield have gone to Casco where he has employment for the winter.

The village schools closed Friday afternoon. Christmas trees were enjoyed and gifts exchanged, teachers were as follows: Grammar, Mrs. Vida Green; Intermediate, Ethel Swett; Primary, Miss Hughey.

J. H. Randall at South Harrison is having electric lights installed at his home. Linwood Tug and crew from Norway are doing the work.

J. H. Randall's house work was broken in an auto accident recently is gaining rapidly as possible." Mrs. Clara Spaulding whose nose was broken in the accident writes that the bandages have been removed from her face.

Fred Wood and family have moved 'he past week from the Ward rent to the Batchelder Stand on Front St.

Marguerite Merrill started Tuesday for St. Augustine, Florida where she has employment at a large hotel as parlor maid. She spent several days enroute

A good number attended the Old Fashioned Dance at the Bungalow Playhouse Wednesday evening. Music was by Suppr's Corner Orchestra of six pieces.

LOST HOPE

It's hard and it's no little thing To take a mother's heart, and wring it dry, of every hope she had For you, when you were young and glad. It's hard for one to spend his life Toiling along in endless strife, And to work for years, and then Be just "nothing" to other men. It's hard to have no friends, no place to stay, And to know men think of you, and say, "He's shiftless, he's no good, He could do better if he would." That's hard, but harder still is this, To think of what you've missed, And as you go drifting here and there, Oh! it's hard to know that I've failed, Although I've tried, but all to no avail, But, God! it's hard to think of the hopes she had, And to keep myself from going mad.

FARMERS AND RELIGION

It has been claimed that the farmers are the most religious class of people in the world.

And why should they not be? Their environment is favorable for the development of the religious sentiment. The everlasting hills and mountains, the majestic forests, the picturesque landscape, the zephyrs of heaven forever whispering through the pines, the dancing, babbling brook, the fields of waving corn and golden grain, inspire the farmer with religion.

Many years ago at a farmers' institute, Uncle Solon Chase took for his text the Northern Spy. In his sermon he said:

"In the springtime, when the apple trees are in bloom, on God's holy Sabbath, I go out into the orchard; and as I view the beautiful blossoms, and listen to the heavenly music of the birds and bees above me, I feel a holy thrill vibrate through my heart, and then I enjoy more religion than I do sitting in my own church."

Pantheism, you say. A few years ago a distinguished clergyman, while viewing the everlasting mountains, was inspired by the spirit of reverence and grandeur that ever dwells among these mountains, and said, "It is grand and noble to be reverential among the mountains, but grander and nobler still to stand up in reverential awe before the Maker of the mountains."

Nature worship, the recognition of God in his works, is a constituent part of our religion and a stepping stone to "the Maker of the mountains." Evidently Jesus enjoyed religion when he saw the fruit trees of Galilee in bloom and the lilies of the field, which he said were more beautiful than Solomon arrayed in all his glory.

God is forever giving the farmers inspiring messages written in glowing letters on his beautiful and wonderful works. —Currier Gazette.

LACKING IN CONSIDERATION

As long as the grass in a Chicago public park is healthy and green the citizens seem to look upon it as some sort of garden and keep off of it, as the signs command them. When it begins to die out, however, their respect for it instantly vanishes.

A man in a hurry started one day to cut across a yellow patch in the upper park, but was stopped by a policeman. "What difference does it make?" demanded the citizen. "The grass is half dead already."

"Sure," said the indignant officer, "if ye had a sick friend would ye be walking on his stomach?" —Harper's Magazine.

An Ideal Tenant.

Applicant—You advertised for a janitor, sir. I am a married man—no children; neat, honest, patient and tactful.

Landlord—I regret that the place is supplied, my friend—but wait! Couldn't I secure you as a tenant?

A Reputation to Maintain.

"I notice you have certain pet phrases you put into all your editorials."

"I have to do that in self-defense," replied the editor of the Chiggersville Clarion.

"Why so?"

"To refute the base insinuation that they are written by my office boy."

Unskilled Help.

A couple of tourists were gazing at the sculptured front of a certain church, when one of them quoted the remark about art being the handmaid of religion.

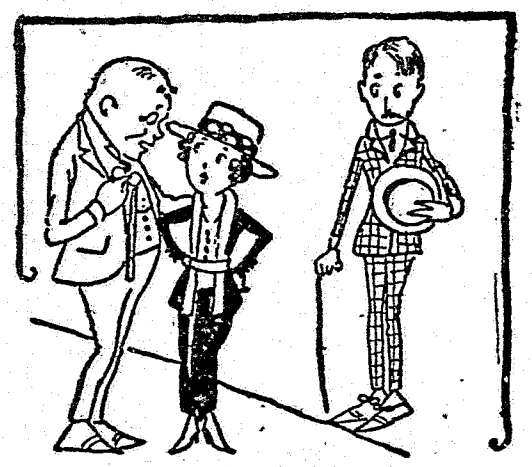

"If that is so," returned the other, glancing again at the crudely carved figures, "Religion ought to give her a month's notice."

His Goal Won.

"You have no ambition," complained his young wife.

"Not now," he replied indolently. "You never did have any."

"Oh, yes, I did; but I achieved my ambition when I acquired a rich father-in-law."

Her Father—You'd better be good to young Slowboy. He's a fine fellow—plenty of horse sense.

Sally Speedup—Horse sense won't help these days. He doesn't know a radiator from a spark plug.

In Jungletown.

Said Miss Giraffe, "I wear, you see, my wrist-watch 'round my neck; I do it by request, because—"

The town clock is a wreck."

A Telling Stroke.

The hare easily caught up with the tortoise. "Well, old man, you're not much of a runner, are you?" he sneered.

"No," admitted the tortoise. "I'm not, I think I'll try for the crew. You see, I'm quite at home in the shell."

Selfish Man.

Bluebeard—You have the freedom of the entire house excepting the closet. This, you must never enter. His High Wife—Do you mean to keep an entire closet for yourself when I haven't room to hang half my things?

Chance to Observe.

"There's one thing about the new styles."

"What, for instance?"

"I never realized before there were so many good-looking girls in this town."

In Danger.

"Guess I'll have to pen up my goat. He used to loaf around wagons parked in the village square and eat hay."

"But now he's learning to drink gasoline."

Out.

"He borrowed a quarter from me, but I wish it had been ten dollars."

"Why?"

"He'd remember borrowing ten dollars, but he'll forget all about the quarter."

Handicapped.

"So Bill married that plump little girl who used to giggle so much."

"Yes. Bill evidently believes in a short wife and a merry one."

Nothing to Hinder.

He—I cannot go to the theater so often—I must think about my bills.

She—Well—can't you think about your bills in the theater?

If you are going to pay it anyway, pay it with a smile.

Norway and Vicinity

Hannibal I. Kimball

In your editorial "Reconstruction and the Kim Klux," published in Sunday's Times, you do considerable injustice to the memory of Hannibal I. Kimball by cataloging him as one of the ill-smelling adventurers who ravaged the South during the period under discussion.

Mr. Kimball was not "the Cossack of Georgia." In that his energies brought him any lasting prosperity. He pulled Atlanta out of the ashes left by Sherman's army and to his courage and impetuosity the city owes the commanding position it holds today. If you will ask any informed Atlantian about the esteem in which his name is held as a worthy and faithful citizen of his adopted State, you will learn much to his credit.

Nor is it fair to call him "a carpet-bagger from the West," even though he went South by a western route. His father was Peter Kimball of Woodstock, Oxford County, Me., whose oldest son, Charles F. Kimball, established a carriage factory at Norway, in the same county, in 1847, having left home a year before his majority to learn the trade in Bridgton and giving notes to his parent for his time. In 1850 his business was flourishing and the family followed him from Woodstock including Hannibal, then a lad of 13. Charles F. later removed to Portland, then to New York and then to Chicago, where he built up several great concerns. He was a Democrat and served as Consul to Stuttgart under President Cleveland. Hiram also went West in season and his heirs ended at Atlanta. A sister, Eunice E., became the wife of George H. Story, who died recently in New York, en route as an artist and long the capable curator of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Ingalls Kimball, a New Yorker of distinction is H. I. Kimball's son.

I write as a former resident of Norway, jealous of the fame of the very extraordinary number of men who have come out of that unique community and carved high places for themselves in the world.

Baptist Church Notes

Thursday C. E., 7:30, "The Gains of Fidelity." Leader, Myra Gammon.

Saturday, Prayer Circles at 7.

Sunday Christmas Services, Christmas Sermon by the Pastor, "Proving God's Love," at 10:30. Sunday School at 12. Evening Cottage meeting at 7 at Mrs. Damon's, Alpine St.

Monday Celebration of the birthday of Jesus at 4 o'clock at the church. All invited. Service of "White Gifts for the King." The whole Sunday School will take part. Christmas tree for the young ones.

Schools closed Friday; winter term commences Monday January 1.

Christmas rush is on with several stores using extra clerks. All stores are tastefully decorated and every effort made to express the real Yule tide spirit.

Milletville and Crockett Ridge

The Milletville School closed a successful term, Friday in spite of the small number of scholars. Miss Ramsdell, the teacher, gave the children a lovely treat of ice cream and fancy cakes, after the Christmas tree on which were many pretty decorations and little gifts for all as well as pop corn and candy. The 2nd grade entertained with reading and then followed a social time with games.

The Neighboring Club began its winter meetings with Mrs. S. I. Jackson last week with a good attendance, busy fingers and a social afternoon. Mrs. Harold Holt entertained this week and plans were made for the usual neighborhood Christmas tree. It will be held on Christmas Night with Mr. and Mrs. Rust Jackson.

Mrs. Fred Lovejoy and the little ones are enjoying a new Christmas victrola which arrived a bit early but will be enjoyed the more as about 40 records came with it.

THE MEANING OF OVERALLS

A cheering item appeared in the commercial news the other day, to the effect that there is a big demand for overalls. Orders have been leagued for these working garments, and manufacturers are having difficulty in keeping up with the demand.

The demand for overalls is a good business barometer. When automobiles, jewelry, phonographs and other facilities for pleasure and enjoyment sell rapidly, it indicates that people have been making a lot of money, but it does not prove that they will keep on having it. They may be spending so freely that prices will rise, which tends to check trade.

But when overalls sell well it indicates that the country is producing largely and when this condition exists the working population will have money and goods will sell for a considerable period.

Overalls have played their part in industrial development. When the country was joy riding along in 1920 on the top of a period of inflation, overall parades held in many cities were the first note of revolt. When the business men thus voiced their protest against extravagant tendencies, it signified that the country was returning to a saner period, when work and thrift were to be the ideals instead of free spending.

Some men who caught wearing overalls feel that the outfit is a symbol of the plebeian costume. On the contrary it does them credit. The overall suit is the symbol of two essential elements in progress, the willingness to labor, and the thrifty spirit that leads a man to save his clothes and protect them from being soiled. The country has all the dress suits it needs, but there are never enough overalls.

An old well that is being dug to any considerable depth usually has a twenty-inch casing in the upper part and a small, slender man could get down in one of that size. In fact, such a feat was recently performed near Los Angeles by Walter McGay of Taft, Cal., who is known as the "human gopher." A master rotary bushing had been lost in the well and the only way in which it could be got out without destroying the well was to send a man down after it. The tool was lodged at the 110 foot level. McGay was lowered into the well with a one-inch rope and wore a gas mask attached to an oxygen tank from which air was pumped to him constantly. It was necessary for him to make six descents before he succeeded in grasping the lost tool and he spent almost an hour in one of the smallest holes in the ground in which a man ever found himself.

BIBLE VERSES

For This Week

It can't be done;—No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.—Matthew 6:24.

Earthly Treasures:—Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal.—Matthew 6:19.

Teaching Transgressors:—Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit. Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee.—Psalm 51:12, 13.

God Keeps His Covenant:—Know therefore that the Lord thy God, he is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments to a thousand generations.—Deuteronomy 7:9.

In Spirit and in Truth:—God is a spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.—John 4:24.

God's Love:—The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yes, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee.—Jeremiah 31:3.

COURAGE REVOLUTIONIZES LIVES

When people are suffering from the discouragement disease—which means that they have lost their grip, lost faith in themselves, they cannot really do the best of which they are capable, because they don't believe they can succeed. Just as the race horse who has once lost confidence in his ability to win can never again be a winner, the average man, after he has failed a few times, loses his enthusiasm, his faith in himself, takes it for granted that he is a failure; and, of course, when his mind is filled with the failure instead of the success thought it is impossible for him to succeed. He can only who thinks he can. Faith is the leader of the army of success. If all the people in the vast failure army to-day could be made to believe in themselves, even for a period of thirty days, to have a superb confidence in their ability to do the thing they long to do, to believe that they still could make the tag ends of their lives a success, they would cease to be failures. Their mental attitude, their courage and self-confidence would revolutionize their lives.—Success Magazine.

A Los Angeles woman gave birth to a son in a Ford. And if she didn't name him Henry, she has no idea about what would be fitting.

PLANET VENUS

The planet Venus slightly smaller than the earth is much nearer to the sun (as v. 67—e. 93) and so receives more heat and light from it. Not much is known about the physical condition of Venus but some things are revealed. Alfred Rordam writes: "I have observed Venus daily when visible and not obscured by clouds for a period of 20 years with telescopes varying from 4" to 10". In that time I have made thousands of sketches but the majority of them show only the phase (crescent like the moon in first and last quarter). On less than fifty occasions have I seen decided, and unmistakable markings and on six occasions only has a positive movement of the spots been observed."

In 1882 when occurred the transit of the planet across the face of the sun (which will not occur again until A. D. 2004). At the time of the apparent contact with the sun a ring of light was seen and drawn by Prof. J. E. Keeler, which surrounded the outline of that world. After the planet had settled into the edge of the sun, which really was far beyond the sun illuminated the atmosphere as Venus passed before it. This ring of light was probably 400 miles deep. Only about 25 percent of the solar rays are believed to penetrate to the surface of the planet while the other 75 percent of the rays go to make up the albedo (reflected light) which the earth receives. Like the poles on the planet Mars, a more intense light is visible at the tips of the horns of planets crescent phase. This light was attributed to ice and snow same as on our own planet and on the ice caps of Mars. We do not see the actual ice or snow but the atmospheric condensations, more dense over the cold regions are believed to explain the cold.

From Scientific American: Observations of certain dark spots on Venus, by Prof. W. H. Pickering, appear to indicate a rotation period of 68 hours. He states that the motion of the spots was not from West to East but from North to South, implying that the axis of the planet was very nearly in the plane of its orbit.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Rumford
Virginia boys are planning to do something for the year 1923. Scoutmaster Moniech is "one of them" and with the assistance of Carl Thurston bids fair to get the troop well underway in short order.

Seven new applicants were present at the meeting held Tuesday night at Virginia Chapel. A good attendance made things lively regardless of the chilly atmosphere. The meeting started immediately after the opening talk given by Executive Perham. Scoutmaster Moniech produced a plain Board and the scouts all joined in and gave it the finishing touches by tying and tacking to the board the 9 principle knots required of a Tenderfoot scout.

Scout Lee Aubrey was appointed to place this Knot Board on Exhibit. Promptly at 8 o'clock the following morning, Exhibit No. 1 adorned the show window in Messrs. Gauthier and Votiers store.

Nucleus of Committee Behind Troop 1. Eight fathers of Troop No. 1, Rumford, gathered at the Municipal Court Room to talk over re-organization plans in regard to committee and Scout work in general. The spirit shown was mighty good and bids fair for successful backing of the Troop.

Dr. G. Douglas Clark is the present scoutmaster and has things well underway. Every man and boy is behind him. It was decided that he should be backed by a live committee for 1923. A future date for the election of officers and other official business was set at the Thursday evening following Christmas.

Mrs. J. C. Hutchinson, C. T. Maynard, John Welch, C. B. Fuller, E. F. Day, Exec. Perham, Cecil Shurtleff, Charles Hashey and Lewis Irish were present at this meeting. Many more parents are expected at the next meeting.

MEXICO COURT OF HONOR

The big fireplace in the Mexico Scout Headquarters flashed a welcome glow on the Scouts of Troop No. 1 and the men gathered there for the first session of the Mexico Court of Honor. Troop No. 1, held its regular meeting under the leadership of Walter Wight. Instructions in Weather Signs and Knot Tying were first in order. After this came the Court of Honor meeting. Glenroy Foley officially passed his Merit Badge requirements for Personal Health before the following men, E. H. Dorr, John Johnson, Walter Howard, Bert W. Goodwin, S. B. Strout, Frank Bean and Walter Wight. Scout held the Oxford County record in completing his First Class requirements in the shortest space of time on record. He is the first scout to be awarded a Merit Badge. Close on his heels comes Scout Gordon Williams, who received his First Class Badge on this same evening. Scouts Foley and Williams are the two leading scouts in Mexico and are members of Troop No. 1, Mexico, Walter Wight, Scoutmaster.

NORWAY LAKE

SCHOOL TREE

School closed Friday with an entertainment and Christmas tree in the afternoon. A goodly number of parents and friends were present and enjoyed the following program:

Song, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" School Rec., December. John Morrison Rec., A Message to Santa. Arline Corbett Rec., "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas" School Reading, "Cradle Hymn" Ellen Dulles Song, "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas" School Rec., Christmas Bells. Walter Morey Dialogue, "Little Gaudies" Stanley Marion Proctor, John Morrison, Stanley Bachelier, Daniel Dulles, Beatrice Bryant Rec., Just Before Christmas. Robley Morrison Reading, "The Holly" Evelyn Brown Rec., Christmas Morn. Elizabeth Ariel Song, "Santa Claus" Chester Morey Rec., Christmas Eve. Frances Doughty Rec., "What Would You Say" Guy Bryant Dialogue, "Darning the Christmas Stocking" Marie Brown and Dennis Dulles Rec., "Santa Claus" Betsy Dulles Rec., "Fair Sleigh" Florence Bryant Song, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" School

At the close of the entertainment the presents were taken from the tree and distributed to the eager children by a number of the scholars chosen for that purpose, after which an hour of merriment followed.

The teacher, Ruth Elliott, worked hard to make this a happy time for the children and they seemed to thoroughly enjoy it. Teacher and scholars received many nice presents.

John Morrison won first prize for receiving ten gold stars during the term and Chester Morey won the second prize. These stars were given for general excellence, perfection in lessons and deportment and not being absent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tucker of East Stoneham were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Tucker and family. Mabel Perry is home from school in Springvale for the Christmas vacation. Maurice Flood and Victor Gould of Farmington are visiting at David Flood's.

The Mother's Club have had their hall wired for electric lights putting in a plant of their own.

LOCKE'S MILLS

Mrs. Lucian Littlehale of Bethel visited relatives here recently.

Mrs. Jennie King visited relatives at South Paris over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Orland Jordan are going to do light house keeping in a part of the house occupied by Angus Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph King and Lucille, were at Bethel, Saturday.

Mrs. Mattie Swift has sold her farm on Howe Hill to F. W. Bennett.

CENTER LOVELL

Howard Towle has moved his family into the Benj. Gray rent and is working for M. W. Stearns.

William Vance is at home for a few weeks from Boston.

Mrs. Nellie McAllister is stopping at Benj. Russell's.

Hortense Andrews and friend from Paris were at her uncle's Benj. Russell's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sargent from Fryeburg spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Farrington.

Lillian Merrill was sick during the past week and unable to teach school after Monday until Monday, Dec. 18.

A supper, entertainment and Christmas tree is to be held at the Christian Church Saturday evening, December 23rd.

Mrs. Booker from Portland is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Leon Witham.

The sun is farthest south on Friday, December 22nd at 9:57 a. m. eastern standard time and at that moment winter begins.

The Lucelia Merriam homestead, head of Main and Pleasant streets, Norway, is for sale to settle the estate. See ad.

Christmas Giving

It is always a problem to select the gifts for those we love that will bring the most pleasure. There are presents without number and it is difficult to select wisely from the bewildering array.

A Savings Pass Book is a practical gift for a young person. It will be appreciated now and its value will increase with the passing years. Though small in itself, it may prove the foundation of success for the person to whom you present it.

You will not make a mistake, if you do a part of your Christmas shopping in our Savings Department. Give a Pass Book with an initial deposit.

public desires this innovation.

Noble's Corner

Shower

One of the pleasant events of the week was a shower tendered Mr. and Mrs.

Percy O. Upton at their home at Noble's

Corner, by a party. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Biggs, Greenleaf, Mr.

Percy Russell, Mrs. Arthur Herrick,

Adelaide French, Wayland Upton and

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Henry White, a prominent resident of Oxford, Maine, a quarter of a century ago, died Dec. 5, in his 63rd year, at the Eliot hospital, Boston, Mass., of cancer of the stomach following a comparative short illness. He was not unknown to the older residents of Norway and vicinity as he had mingled with Norway residents fraternally and played ball there many times as captain of teams representing both Oxford and Welchville.

In Oxford and Welchville he will be remembered by older residents who knew him well as Harry White and regarded him highly. Most of his ball playing was done in the eighties while he was employed in the woolen mills at Oxford and Welchville. He created such a favorable impression by the manner in which he covered first base that he was offered a tryout with the Portland club of the New England league. He was then overseer of the spinning department of the mill at Welchville and did not consider the offer seriously as he counted the greater future lay in the industrial field. He remained as overseer of the mill in Welchville until it burned in the early nineties and then moved to North Andover, Mass., where he made his home up to the time of his death.

In Oxford he also figured prominently in a political way for a number of years, serving as constable at Welchville for several terms.

While in Oxford he married Lenora Myrtilla Wardwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Wardwell of that town. The ceremony was performed in Norway on Aug. 11, 1881 by Rev. Alex Wiswall, then pastor of the Methodist church. He also became affiliated with Tyrian lodge of Masons at Mechanic Falls and was at one time a member of the Knights of Pythias in Norway.

Mr. White was born in a log cabin in Canterbury, New Brunswick, close to the Maine border as his father was a contractor engaged in the construction of a railroad at that point at the time. Soon after the family returned to Lewiston and later located in Sabbathus, where the son obtained his schooling and passed his early years. His father, Samuel White, who later with him in Welchville was employed in the mills of both Lewiston and Sabbathus and it was but natural that the son should follow in his footsteps. It was in Sabbathus that his mother, Elizabeth, Alder White, died. Both parents now rest in the cemetery at Lewiston.

On leaving Welchville on the burning of the woolen mill there, Mr. White moved his family to North Andover, having accepted a position as overseer of spinning in the Sutton mill of that town. He continued as overseer for a number of years and was then made assistant superintendent. This latter position he resigned some 17 years ago and later became identified with the Davis & Furber Machine Co., of North Andover by which he was employed at the time of his death. Long experience in the textile industry made Mr. White an expert in many ways and he served as such with the Davis & Furber Machine Co. His first work with that firm was that of mule erector. Later he became erector in chief and salesman and enjoyed the very highest esteem of his superiors. During the 16 years he was connected with the above firm he visited about every woolen mill city and town in the United States and Canada, traveling hundreds of thousands of miles. He often had occasion to visit Oxford where he was always welcomed by old acquaintances.

Mr. White was active until near the end of the past summer when he decided to take a rest and seek surgical treatment. An operation brought to light the fact he was suffering from a cancer in the advanced stages, and he never left the hospital where the operation was performed by eminent surgeons of Boston.

The funeral took place on Dec. 8, services being held at the family home in North Andover. Burial was in the West Parish cemetery, Andover, Mass.

Mr. White leaves a wife, a son, Merle H. White of New York City, a daughter, Mrs. Herbert B. McQuesten of North Andover, two grandchildren, Virginia Pearl White of New York City and Harriet White McQuesten, North Andover and a sister, Mrs. William Hirst, Meriden, Conn.

He was also a member of Merrimack lodge, Sons of St. George, Lawrence, Mass.

Spare the Doctors
Snow has arrived bringing hard traveling and cold weather. Start the new year with a resolution not to call out a doctor after dark unless absolutely necessary. Physicians with an extensive rural practice are often overworked at this season but they are human and require time for relaxation and sleep.

Many evening and midnight calls are unnecessary, they should have been sent in while the doctor was on his rounds. Emergency and unforeseen conditions are not in this class and no conscientious physician will shirk duty so long as he can physically respond.

A little thought before rushing to a telephone at a late hour, may allow the family physician a night of refreshing sleep and keep him physically fit to perform the exacting duties of his profession.

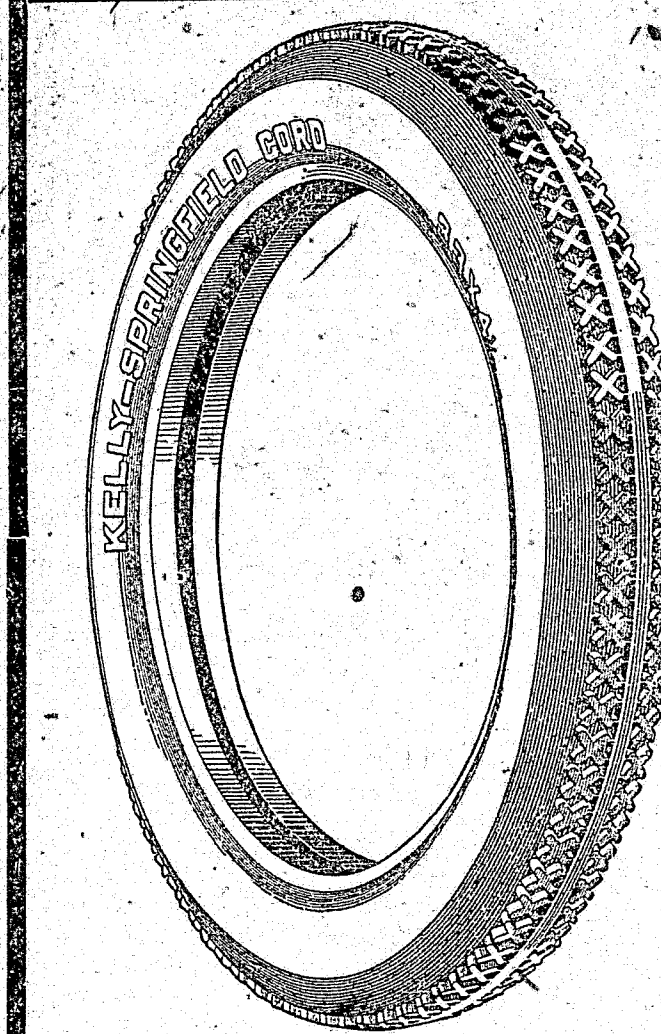

"Sunbonnets" Was Well Presented
"Sunbonnets," the two-act comedy staged by local talent under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Waite made a hit at the Universalist fair Thursday evening. All parts were strong and numerous character delineations were exceptionally well presented. Interior scenery made by members of the cast added greatly to the appearance of the setting. Music between the acts was furnished by an orchestra of four pieces from the South Paris Universalist church.

A supper preceded the entertainment and 200 or more were served. A large sum was realized from the complete fair which equalled the labors in previous years.

Mrs. Florence Fuller formerly of Norway has entered the Old Ladies' Home at Lewiston.

Oxford Royal Arch Chapter No. 29 F. and A. M. held a meeting Thursday evening and Most Excellent Grand High Priest Wilson D. Barron made his official visitation. Work in the Most Excellent Master Degree was conferred. A banquet followed the work.

Mark P. Smith is assisting in the Lee M. Smith Co. store during school vacation. Oscar Bennett continues to gain from the effects of a carbuncle on his neck and will probably be out again in a week or so.

BASKET BALL

Norway High 38; Gould's Academy 32
Norway High School played their first game for the season at Bethel Thursday night and won over Goulds Academy with a narrow margin. The Academy string led easily during the first period and finished strong with a score 20-16, Norway being on the small end.

A little more pep and speed for Norway, at the opening of the second period, kept the sphere in Goulds territory and put the team into a small lead. Both outfits traveled close featuring Louis King as the sharp shooter with Philbrook and Berry not far behind. Fast playing was the rule and the narrow margin kept a keen edge on the royal rooters.

The girls teams from both schools appeared in the preliminary. Gould's won in the last period with a score 6 to 5. Refreshments and a social hour followed the games. The Norway students enjoyed the trip and greatly appreciated the good time and courtesies extended by the Academy students during their stay in Bethel.

The Aggies finished the first term of school with a peppy meeting at the gym Friday night after supper followed by a snappy basket ball game between the Norway Agricultural Club and Norway Center. The Center featured two Bates students, Albert Knightly and Elmer Watson. Warren Knightly, former Aggie member and a freshman at the U. of M. was also in attendance at the game, which was a pleasant surprise to all. The line up was as follows:

BRYANT'S POND
Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Q. Perham, Mrs. Mildred Woodsum and son Sidney were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Dudley Sunday.

Scoutmaster Charles E. Hamlen took his scout corps Saturday to South Pond fishing. They didn't catch many fish, but they had a good time.

Mrs. Howard Emery spent the week end in Portland to do her Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Inez Whitman is with her aunt Mrs. Clara W. Felt this week. Mrs. Felt met with a sad accident last week by a tier of stove wood falling against her; she was badly hurt.

Mrs. Charles E. Hamlen went to Auburn Monday for a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Galley.

Miss Lottie H. Bryant and Mrs. Geo. Cushman spent a few days in Lewiston this week.

Lottie H. Bryant closed her school at North Woodstock Saturday a term of 14 weeks with a Christmas tree and exercises by the scholars. The parents and friends were invited and all enjoyed the afternoon very much. Pupils not tardy or absent during the term were: Lizzie E. Cole, Evelyn Coffin, Limpi Korhonen and Arnold Coffin.

The schools in town are enjoying two weeks vacation.

The farmers are improving the good sledding; autos are still running.

Ellis Davis gave a good report of the State grange held in Bangor last week at our regular Grange meeting Saturday.

At the Grange hall, Bryants Pond, Dec. 14, the Farm Bureau Ladies Club held an all-day Betty meeting. A warm dinner consisting of vegetable hash, chop suey and pastry was served at noon. Three betties were made. Twelve members and one visitor were present.

Scouts On Ice Fishing Hike, North Pond

What can beat a "below zero" morning? Answer! A snappy bunch of scouts choose this as the ideal time for starting off Ice Fishing. You can't beat it for real fun.

Troop No. 1 accompanied by Scoutmaster Charles Hamlen and Executive Perham started out for North Pond Saturday morning all loaded for business. Scout Otis Dudley carried the fishing paraphernalia on ahead by team and was followed later by the rest of the troop. Norton's Live Bait certainly looked good to the pickerel on North Pond.

A fire was built near shore on arrival at the pond. The ice was about four inches thick and the way the fishing holes increased would have been a revelation to the fellow who attempted to do the same job with two feet of ice to go through. Everyone had a great time.

Scout Otis Dudley and Jay Willard passed their Scouts Pace tests on North Pond the first trial. On the way home the scouts made a Woods of Maine collection and succeeded in getting specimens of most of the merchantable woods before darkness stopped the hunt. Scouts Frank Jordan, Lawrence Jordan, Percy Dudley, Jay Willard, Otis Dudley, Joseph Parnum, Charles Hamlen and Harold Perham made up the party. Harry Packard was the only visitor of the day.

Primary School
The following pupils not absent or tardy for fourteen week term: Grade III, Elsie R. Abbott, Evelyn F. Howe, Rachel C. Forbes, Hilda A. Newell. Grade II: Parker Allen, Donald Whitman. Grade I: Mabel Thurlow, Marguerite B. Newell, Ada M. Littlehale.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

County Agent Lovejoy, with the assistance of the various Farm Bureau community chairman, has just completed arrangements for a series of winter planning meetings to be held in the twenty organized communities of the county. The main purpose of these meetings will be to arrange for the carrying out of the program for 1923 and to elect the local officers for the coming year.

An added feature of the meetings will be the stereopticon pictures made up from negatives taken in the county. Mr. Lovejoy has over seventy of the lantern slides, and they are of unusual educational value because each has a concrete bearing on some particular profitable farm practice. All are illustrative of Farm Bureau work.

The meetings begin at 10 a. m. and are open to the public. All interested are urged to attend. Following is the schedule: Waterford, Dec. 27; Lovell, Dec. 28; Oxford, Dec. 29; Dixfield, Jan. 2; Rumford, Jan. 3; Andover, Jan. 4; Roxbury, Jan. 5; Mexico, Jan. 6; Bethel, Jan. 9; Bryant Pond, Jan. 10; So. Paris, Jan. 11; Norway, Jan. 12; Brownfield, Jan. 16; Fryeburg, Jan. 17; Denmark, Jan. 18; Hiram, Jan. 19; Canton, Jan. 23; East Sumner, Jan. 24; Buckfield, Jan. 25; East Hebron, Jan. 30; Hebron, Jan. 31.

Fine owners of Oxford County will be interested to learn that County Agent Lovejoy has arranged for D. Curtis, federal agent for white pine blister rust control, to attend several of the winter Farm Bureau planning meetings, in order to give those present some information about the disease and methods of control. The meetings which Mr. Curtis will attend are as follows: Waterford, Dec. 27; Lovell, Dec. 28; Oxford, Dec. 29; Andover, Jan. 4; Bethel, Jan. 9; So. Paris, Jan. 11; Brownfield, Jan. 16; Fryeburg, Jan. 17; Hiram, Jan. 19; Canton, Jan. 23; East Sumner, Jan. 24; Buckfield, Jan. 25.

"JUST A MATTER OF TASTE"

Can't Turn a Pig Into a Cat
I have read a great deal about sanitation and cleanliness. I want to tell you that all of this talk about city pride makes me exceedingly weary. This thing to regulate the business and actions of other folks I consider a direct blow at civic liberty. It is the inalienable right of every person to do as he pleases with his own if he keeps within the law.

The public don't do any kicking if the merchant displays his canned goods in his shop windows, but let a person decorate his doorway with the same empty and a howl goes up immediately, just as if a man had no right on his own property. Is there such a vast difference between piling them in neat little pyramids and having them broadcast?

If the landlord chooses to let his tenant to be used for a pigsty it is a matter of dollars and cents, and, believe me, there is no sentiment in business. Supposing it does not concern property in that vicinity, that is not the concern of the landlord, but the householder in the neighborhood, and if they wish to purchase the offending property to abate what they consider a nuisance why should they be surprised if the price goes to the highest bidder? That is a good business.

If I am ever asked to define the word business, I shall not stop to look it up, but will reply right off the bat that it means taking advantage of people's necessities. If a person chooses to raise chickens on his or her lawn, why should it concern other people? It is their lawn and their chickens and besides it is a cheap and economical advertisement. It not only advertises the thrift of the owner, but advertises the town as well, and other things. "Where there are many men there are many minds," and it is impossible to make us all see and think alike.

There are folks who take a warm bath daily. There are others who think cold water is the correct thing, while a few bathe only with Sloan's Liniment. Most of us believe our clothing is made for comfort, or adornment of the person, but a few thrifty souls can make an old coat or pair of trousers take the place of a broken pane, and thereby save the piece of glass. Some folks wear diamonds and others wear whippers, and I imagine the feeling is very much the same in either case. At least they appear to be painfully conscious of having something not universally possessed. Some "say it with flowers," and some with hencoops and clotheslines. They have an equal right in the matter, and the results are equally significant. The choice between a private garbage dump in the back-yard and a few rose bushes is open to all. If any prefer the dump it seems as if they ought to be allowed to indulge their taste in so simple a matter without molestation or interference from their neighbors.

Some girls wear their manes roached, and some prefer to wear a bun on the back. They are perfectly all right either way, it is just a little matter of taste. Some people appear to think a fur coat of more importance than a bank account and that a diamond ring can be seen farther than a lighthouse. There are others who believe a good bank roll entitles them to wear clothing that is but one removed from the rag bag. If they wear the rag bag itself it is no business of yours or mine, if it pleases them there is no law to prevent it.

The natural inclination of a pig is to wallow in mire while the pussy cat will spring from place to place, and keep her dainty little feet clear from filth in which a pig seems to delight. The pig doesn't know that he is a pig and if you could convince him of the fact, it is a question of whether he would like to be a cat. The stately pine and the toadstool were born of the same parent, but you can't build a church spire from a toadstool. A cleanly front lawn is often a camouflage for a dirty back-yard, and reminds one of a person putting silk apron over a soiled house dress with the idea that the silk will cover the calico.

All of this goes to show the diversity of tastes and opinions, and how impossible it is to turn a pig into a cat.

This town (Rockport) is laying quite a large amount of concrete sidewalks, and it seems to be a favorite pastime with certain young men to climb the fence after dark and dance the polka-wiggle in the soft cement. This is condemned by some good citizens in language both lurid and superfluous, while take the stand that the act is commendable and point with satisfaction to the fact that a few of our young people have an avid desire to make their marks in the world, and think that by perseverance and a proper amount of encouragement that even from such a humble beginning they may succeed in laying their finger prints in some big institution.

Pardon me if I have rambled from the subject, but the fact I am trying to set forth is that the minds of all people cannot be made to follow the same groove.—M. L. Clark in Rockland Courier Gazette.

Civilization usually means more scheming and less work.

A TRIP TO FLORIDA

By Lydia Lord Shedd

There were many families of colored people picking cotton and husking corn in Virginia. We saw the house, a long, old-fashioned house, where Stonewall Jackson, the rebel, spent his last days and where he died. A sign marked the place. The hogs were around the door of the negro cabins like dogs walking in and out among the people. Most of the cabins were without doors or windows. Place we would not think fit to house our cattle in.

From Washington down there were carloads of pulp wood coming north, portable mills in many places along the way. The Dixie Highway was covered with cars going South mostly Ford cars. There were many Ford car shops with repairs of all kinds all along the way.

At Peoria there were Iron Foundries, Tin Shops and Cotton Gins. Car loads of cotton oil, Tobacco and coal were passed. There were many campers on free camping grounds a blessing to the tourists. We saw many birds near here; hawks, eagles, turkey buzzards, snakes, black birds, crows and many other birds. After leaving Jacksonville we passed many places of interest.

St. Augustine is a very ancient city. Daytona, a clean and beautiful city; Gifford, a colored settlement, many orange groves; Sebastian and Quay small towns with many beautiful orange groves both sides of the railway. Then Vero, our destination.

This is a growing city. They are laying the pipes now for city water supply. A pumping station where the water is filtered is being erected. Side walks are being laid through the outskirts. The people who own property here are taxed heavily. The Indian River fruit is called the finest in the country. A large canal from Vero into Indian River carries for all the water in the many ditches here. A bridge three-fourths of a mile long crosses the Indian River with a draw bridge where vessels pass under. There is a toll for all vehicles and foot passengers. A large shark was seen beside the bridge. There are many fishermen on the bridge daily. 2 1/2 cents are paid per pound for the fish by the ones who operate the drawbridge. Fine trout are caught 20 cts. per pound is the buying price. Shakes as large around as a flour barrel and from 18 to 20 feet long are often seen.

The Blue Heron, crows, ducks, geese and pelican are seen on the shores. There is an island called "Pelican Island" where the birds are protected by the government. The old ones and the very young are fed by the others. They have a pouch in their bill near their head that holds a peck where they carry their food. They live mostly on fish. The bridge leads to Riviera Beach about three miles from Vero. There are houses being built there. A fine casino with a porch, running around it with seats and portable tables to accommodate the public; a stand where hot lunches are served; also soft drinks, cigars, confectionery, ice cream, etc.; many house lots staked off for sale there; a beautiful place. Vero has many beautiful flowers and birds of which I will write later.

Drill Master—W. E. Abbott.

The next regular meeting will be on Tuesday evening, Dec. 26th. There will be a Christmas tree Monday evening, Dec. 25th in Grange Hall. The tree, entertainment, etc. will be in charge of the Pythian Sisters and Brother Knights while the use of the hall is given by Bear Mt. Grange. Everyone is invited, especially the children and it is hoped all who can will come and help to make a Merry Christmas.

ALBANY

Mrs. A. G. Bean, Charley Rugg and Harry McKeen formerly of Albany have all been operated on at the C. M. G. hospital. All are thought to be on the road to recovery.

We have had the coldest morning Tuesday we have had since last February. Raymond Cummings who was hurt on the cars while firing from Springfield, Mass. to Albany, New York has been visiting his brother Leslie Cummings a few days at Allston, Mass.

William Grover of Lovell who came over to Hanks Corner to finish cutting up his pulp wood was taken sick and had to go back to Lovell.

Fred Littlefield has got four or five teams hauling pulp wood over to Will Holsbrook in Greenwood.

Mrs. Flora Cummings and Mrs. E. T. Jenkins took supper with Anna Cummings at 24 Chapel Street, Lewiston, recently.

Mr. Davis, W. I. Beckler, Mrs. George Abbott and Mrs. Bert Bert Jenkins call on Dexter and Miss Anna Cummings and took tea while on their way home from State Grange at Bangor. Mrs. Nancy Andrews called at the C. M. G. Hospital to see Mrs. A. G. Bean and visited Anna Cummings.

Archie Ross who has been at work at Bethel is laid up with a bad hand. He has blood poisoning in it.

Christmas Trees and Exercises

Congregational—Covered dish supper at 5:30 P. M. Monday at the vestry. Exercises and distribution of gifts.

Baptist—Sunday school will observe Christmas on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Tree and exercises.

Deering Memorial—Games for the children, story telling and refreshments at the vestry Monday afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock. Trees will be unloaded at 4:30.

Universalist—Covered dish supper for members of the Sunday School and their families at 6 o'clock Monday evening. Entertainment and tree will follow. The new piano will be used during the entertainment.

The Odd Fellows have a big two days' carnival and sale in preparation for the last week in January. A drama is planned for some date in February.

Harry D. Cole attended the meeting of automobiles dealers and salesmen at Lewiston, Thursday. A banquet at the De Witt Hotel was largely attended.

The Sunday morning service at the Universalist Church was omitted owing to the illness of Rev. C. G. Miller. Sunday school was held at noon as usual.

William L. Frothingham has returned from the Central Maine General Hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Alton C. Wheeler attended the session of the law court at Augusta this week. He appeared in several cases.

George Hutchinson of Rumford was in town Monday on legal business.

Ernest P. Crockett, president of the Western Main Poultry Association, attended the state show at Portland.

J. Harold Neal, salesman of the Mason Manufacturing Co., will be at the New York office the first four months in 1923 and has engaged a flat which his family will occupy during that time.

Chief Engineer Charles W. Bowker has opened a campaign for the inspection of all public buildings and many dwellings. Fire escapes and containers for ashes will attract his special attention.

Joshua L. Chamberlain Camp, S. of V. held an interesting meeting Friday night. Although there are a number of the members sick, there was a good attendance. Two new members were mustered in. The committee for the January campfire reported progress, and if everything goes, it will be a grand good time. The camp voted to hold a special meeting Dec. 29 for the purpose of mustering in some sixteen eligibles, whose applications have been voted on, and they will appear Dec. 29th at near 7:30 P. M. as possible.

The entertainment for the Baptist fair Thursday evening was a success. The program included selections by Grace Quartet, comprising Messrs. Cutting, Churchill, Ruth and Decker, socially, Marion Wheeler and Doris Judd and a laughable sketch, "Not a Man in the House."

The electric train in the Roger Davis Co. window continues to make trips and hold the attention of crowds. A switch installed outside the store, allowing the youngsters to operate the train at will, has proved a boon to the boys and girls not favored with the price of attractive toys. Because of this unusual opportunity, the train runs practically from morning till night. More than one little chap has experienced the thrill of pressing the button and playing railroad magnate for a time.

Howard Shaw and his orchestra played for a private dance at Hebron Sanatorium, Monday night. The trip was made by auto and the going decidedly bad.

Frank "Cyk" McGinley is home from Bates College for the holiday.

A community Christmas tree is illuminated in Market Square this week as in previous years.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Peverley have been elected members of the Knappe Club to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. and Mrs. Sherman T. Oliver leaving town.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Swan will entertain the members in their new home on Western Avenue on the evening of Dec. 29.

Thermometers registered between 24 to 30 below zero Wednesday morning.

Lena Franck, former principal of the Brick Grammar School, now teaching in Junior High in Springfield, Mass., is expected here as Christmas guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fletcher.

Schools will close Friday of this week and open for the winter term, Jan. 8.

Helene Pitts, who has been at home for the past two weeks taking care of her mother, who has been sick, returned to her duties at the C. M. G. Hospital this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Jacobs were in Buckfield last week to attend the funeral of Mr. Jacob's aunt, Mrs. Lurvey.

E. T. Hubbard has moved his family from the E. N. Haskell rent to the Byron Tuttle rent on Main Street.

Mrs. Lewis Howe of 18 Spring St. who has been very sick with pneumonia is some better but not able to do her work. Helen Doughty is caring for her.

The chimney at 16 Spring St. caught fire early Wednesday morning. It had quite a good start when discovered but was soon put under control by fire extinguishers.

Paris Grange met Dec. 16th at 1:30 p. m. and worked the first and second degrees. The next meeting, Jan. 6 will be opened at 10:30 followed by a Grange dinner. All who have not been notified what to bring will bring pastry. The newly elected officers will be installed in the afternoon. A large attendance is expected. Next month will occur the Anniversary of the dedication of the Grange Hall and a Chicken pie supper will be served Jan. 12.

Porter District

John H. McKeen is teaching in Clarksville, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harmon from Sandy Creek were at W. E. Bryants, Friday of last week.

Elias McKeen and Waino Heikkinen are cutting their ice.

The following are the scholars of the Porter District school who had 100% in spelling for the week ending, Dec. 15th: Olva Pike, Vieno Pike, Hugo Heikkinen. The school had 100% in attendance for the week.

Toni Rossi of Rumford was bound over to the Grand Jury in $2,000 bail, Monday, on the charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Lincoln Marble and the serious injury of Byron Marble, young sons of Charles Marble of Biddeford, which occurred Saturday. It was alleged that Rossi's automobile struck a double-runner sled, on which the two boys were sliding. On the charge of driving away after the accident without identifying himself, Rossi was fined $20 and costs and sentenced to three months in jail. He appealed.
